Delhi Police bust major ISI-backed espionage-terror module; 11 arrested

New Delhi: The Special Cell of the Delhi Police on Friday busted a major espionage network allegedly operated by Pakistan's intelligence agency, the Inter-Services Intelligence (ISI) and the banned outfit Babbar Khalsa International (BKI) and arrested 11 persons connected with it.

As a result of the crackdown, 11 individuals were arrested from various places in Delhi and Punjab. Police said they had been installing cameras across different parts of the country.

According to police, the accused were in direct contact with Pakistan-based handlers through encrypted applications and were receiving instructions to carry out espionage and subversive activities targeting national security.

In the first operation, six accused were arrested and nine solar-powered CCTV cameras installed near sensitive security and defence establishments were recovered. These cameras were transmitting live feeds to Pakistan-based handlers through mobile applications.

Police also recovered four pistols, including three PX5 foreign-made weapons and one country-made pistol, along with 24 live cartridges. Investigations revealed that the module was being funded through UPI transactions, with a portion of the funds coming from illegal arms smuggling.

In the second operation, acting on inputs from military intelligence, five more accused were arrested from Punjab. They were involved in conducting reconnaissance of sensitive Army and paramilitary installations and sharing photos and videos with Pakistan-based handlers.

During the investigation, it was also found that the network was involved in radicalising and recruiting youths for terror activities, espionage, and arms trafficking.

Police said that the accused had installed

CCTV cameras at multiple locations across states including Punjab, Haryana, and Rajasthan, to monitor sensitive areas.

The probe further revealed that the module was planning possible terror attacks, including grenade attacks on security establishments, which have now been averted.

Further investigation is underway to identify other members of the network and uncover the full extent of the conspiracy.

A similar network was also busted in Ghaziabad just a few days ago.

Alleged Land Classification Scam in NLC Coal Block Raises Questions in Sambalpur

Sambalpur-09/04(DMS) Serious allegations have surfaced regarding irregularities in land classification during the transfer of land to NLC India Limited for the Talabira II and III coal mining projects in Odisha's Sambalpur district.

According to reports, large parcels of land—valued at nearly ₹200 crore—were allegedly misclassified to facilitate their transfer to the company. Land that has long been recorded as "Patharabani" (rocky land) in official records, including the government's Bhulekh portal and Jharsuguda tehsil documents since 1980, was reportedly shown as "Patita" (wasteland) in company records. This discrepancy has raised serious concerns about possible manipulation by certain officials. Locals allege that some government authorities, in alleged collusion with corporate interests, altered land categories to reduce the financial liabilities associated with land acquisition.

The issue came to light after villagers from Malda, Rampur, and Patrapali filed complaints with the district administration. They questioned how land consistently classified as "Patharabani" could suddenly be changed to "Patita" during the acquisition process.

Notably, while both categories can be used for mining, "Patharabani" land attracts significantly higher royalties. Due to the alleged reclassification, the state government is believed to have suffered a potential revenue loss of around ₹200 crore over the total leased area of approximately 1038.187 hectares.

The land in question includes about 327,240 acres across six plots under Khata No. 165 in Patrapali village. Despite official records indicating otherwise, the company reportedly treated the land as wasteland. Villagers have warned of strong protests if corrective measures are not taken. They have demanded proper reclassification of the land and compensation to the state exchequer. Additionally, they have opposed tree felling in green belt and safety zones within the lease area, warning of serious consequences if environmental norms are violated.

Following the complaints, the district administration has taken note of the issue, and an investigation is expected. The matter has reportedly caused concern among officials involved, as well as the company. With tensions rising, all eyes are now on the district authorities to uncover the truth, fix accountability, and address growing public discontent.

Tata Steel Foundation enables Sanjapada Women to Build Sustainable Livelihoods from Palm Leaves

Meramandali : In the serene village of Sanjapada in Hindol block of Dhenkanal district, where palm trees have flourished for generations, a quiet transformation is underway led by women who are turning tradition into opportunity and skills into self-reliance. For years, the abundant palm leaves in the region remained an underutilized resource, despite their deep cultural roots in Odisha's heritage, once used for sacred manuscripts, horoscopes, and artistic depictions of epics like the Ramayana and Mahabharata. Today, these same leaves are being reimagined as products of value and pride.

This transformation began when Tata Steel Foundation, under its Women Empowerment and Entrepreneurship (WEE) project, introduced a four-month palm leaf value addition training programme for 25 women shareholders of the Gruhalaxmi Cooperative Society in Sanjapada Panchayat.

The training opened new doors. Women who had never engaged in income-generating activities began crafting coasters, bookmarks, and stitched palm leaf mats, learning not just a skill, but a pathway to independence. During the programme, each participant earned ₹3,000, marking their first step towards financial empowerment.

The journey didn't stop at skill-building. With support and guidance, the women came together to form the Jagannath Producer Group in December 2025 in convergence with Mission Shakti, Government of Odisha, giving their efforts a collective identity and stronger market access.

Their growing confidence found a public stage at the Dhenkanal Mahotsav (December 20-24, 2025), where they showcased their craft through a live demonstration stall. Their work drew admiration from visitors and officials alike, earning them recognition under the "Innovative Business Idea" category along with a cash prize of Rs.10,000.

What makes this story remarkable is not just the income earned, but the shift in mindset. From homemakers to artisans and emerging entrepreneurs, these women are redefining their roles within their families and communities.

Mamta Gadnayak, a member of the Gruhalaxmi Cooperative Society, said, "This initiative has helped us realise the value of what we already had around us. We are now more confident, skilled, and hopeful about building a better future for our families through our own efforts."

Another member, Smita

Biswal added, "Being part of this journey has changed my outlook completely. From learning a new craft to earning my own income, I now feel empowered and motivated to grow further and support other women in our community."

Today, the palm leaves of Sanjapada are no longer just part of the landscape—they are symbols of resilience, creativity, and new beginnings. With enhanced skills, growing confidence, and increasing market exposure, these women are poised to scale new heights, proving that when opportunity meets determination, even the simplest resources can transform lives. Speaking about this journey, Kumar Saurabh, Unit Lead, Tata Steel Foundation, Meramandali, said: "This initiative reflects our commitment to enabling community-led and sustainable livelihoods by building on locally available resources and traditional knowledge. The women of Sanjapada have demonstrated how skill development, collective effort, and the right support can translate into meaningful economic opportunities. It is encouraging to see their growing confidence and entrepreneurial spirit, and we remain committed to supporting them as they expand their reach and strengthen their livelihoods."

Odisha Cabinet Approves Rs.1,647 Crore Power Project for Keonjhar Industrial Belt

Bhubaneswar, 10 April (H.S.): In a major push to strengthen power infrastructure in northern Odisha, the State Cabinet has approved a ₹1,647-crore electricity project to meet the rising energy demand in the mineral-rich Keonjhar district.

The project includes the construction of a high-capacity 2x500 MVA, 400/220/33 kV GIS substation at Basudevpur, along with associated transmission lines to enhance power supply and network stability in the region.

The decision comes amid increasing load pressure on existing substations at Barbil, Joda and Palaspanga, which are currently operating at full capacity and are unable to accommodate additional demand. These locations fall within the Joda-Barbil-Palaspanga industrial belt, one of Odisha's main mineral-rich zones housing several large, power-intensive industries.

Officials stated that the project will significantly improve power reliability, strengthen the transmission network, and support future industrial expansion in the region.

Out of the total project cost, the Odisha government will provide 30% equity support amounting to ₹494.10 crore. The remaining ₹1,152.90 crore will be mobilised by Odisha Power Transmission Corporation Limited through loans from banks and financial institutions. The project is slated for implementation over a period of three years, beginning in the access conventional irrigation due to geographical constraints. The initiative targets approximately 2.63 lakh hectares of upland ayacut across Odisha.

In its recent decisions, the Cabinet approved projects in the districts of Sambalpur, Sonapur, Jajpur, and the Keonjhar-Mayurbhanj cluster.

In Sambalpur, four lift irrigation schemes under Cluster-27 were approved to create an additional irrigation potential of about 6,210 hectares. Water will be drawn from the Hirakud Dam and distributed through a pressurised system. The project has been awarded to Megha Engineering & Infrastructures Ltd at a cost exceeding ₹204 crore, with an additional ₹16.33 crore allocated for operation and maintenance over 15 years. The project is expected to be completed within 36 months and will benefit 54 villages.

In Sonapur, four schemes under Cluster 30 will irrigate around 6,025 hectares by lifting water from the Tel River and its confluence points. The project, estimated at about ₹170 crore, includes ₹13.61 crore for long-term maintenance and is expected to benefit 47 villages within a 36-month timeline.

Similarly, in Jajpur district, four schemes under Cluster 37 were approved to cover nearly 5,950 hectares. Water will be sourced from the Kharasua River and the Brahmani River. The project is estimated to cost ₹158.86 crore, with ₹12.70 crore earmarked for maintenance over 15 years, benefiting around 73 villages.

For the Keonjhar-Mayurbhanj cluster, three schemes under Cluster 38 will irrigate approximately 4,280 hectares. Water sources include the Kanpur Main Canal, Ardei Nadi, and Balisudra River. The total project cost is estimated at ₹92.98 crore, with ₹7.48 crore set aside for maintenance. These projects are scheduled for completion within 24 months and will benefit 33 villages.

The initiative is expected to encourage farmers to diversify from water-intensive paddy cultivation to more remunerative cash crops, supported by micro-irrigation systems. Overall, the projects aim to enhance agricultural productivity, increase farm incomes, and strengthen rural livelihoods across the targeted regions.

In addition, all BJP MPs, MLAs, district in-charges, district presidents, state spokespersons, and coordinators of various party cells have been designated as Permanent Invitees to the State Executive.

The expanded executive body is expected to further strengthen the party's organisational structure in Odisha, particularly in view of upcoming political challenges and electoral engagements.

Naveen Patnaik Leaves for Delhi to Visit Ailing Brother After Heart Surgery

Bhubaneswar, 10 April (H.S.): Former Odisha Chief Minister and Biju Janata Dal (BJD) president Naveen Patnaik on Friday departed for New Delhi to meet his ailing elder brother, Prem Patnaik, who recently underwent major heart surgery.

According to sources, Prem Patnaik was admitted to a hospital in the national capital and underwent cardiac surgery earlier this week. Naveen Patnaik's visit is primarily aimed at inquiring about his brother's health and being with him during the recovery period.

Senior BJD leader Debi Mishra described the trip as a personal visit, stating that the former Chief Minister has travelled to Delhi to spend time with his elder brother following his illness.

Several senior party leaders, including Pranab Prakash Das, Ashok Panda, Atanu Sabyasachi Nayak, Sushant Rout, Sanjay Das Burma, Saluga Pradhan, and Tukuni Sahu, were present at the airport to see him off.

Naveen Patnaik is expected to remain in New Delhi for a few days to be with his family as his brother recuperates.

Bhubaneswar, 10 April (H.S.): The Board of Secondary Education, Odisha (BSE) has extended the last date for submission of online applications for the Odisha Teacher Eligibility Test (OTET) 2026 to May 9, 2026.

The earlier deadline, which was set for April 9, has been revised after several candidates were unable to complete their applications within the stipulated time. The extension aims to provide aspirants with additional time to complete the process without facing last-minute technical difficulties.

Odisha Cabinet Approves Rs. 3,400 Crore 'Atal Bus Stand' Scheme to Modernise Transport Hubs

Bhubaneswar, 10 April (H.S.): The Odisha Cabinet on Friday approved the 'Atal Bus Stand (ABS)' scheme, a major initiative aimed at transforming public transport infrastructure across the state. The scheme has a total outlay of ₹3,400 crore and will be implemented through the 2031-32 financial year.

The programme seeks to modernise, renovate, operate and manage bus stands at district headquarters, sub-divisional headquarters, block headquarters, urban local bodies, as well as key tourist and strategic locations.

A key feature of the scheme is the introduction of a unified management framework for all public bus stands in Odisha. This will bring existing facilities developed under earlier schemes, along with those managed by urban local bodies, under a single umbrella to ensure standardised infrastructure, maintenance, operations and passenger services across the state.

Under the scheme, bus stands will be categorised into "A", "B" and "C" segments based on passenger demand, transport requirements and regional significance. This classification is intended to enable better planning, efficient resource allocation and improved service delivery.

The initiative also aims to enhance operational efficiency, strengthen financial planning and boost revenue generation from transport hubs. In addition, it focuses on improving passenger convenience, reducing operational liabilities and promoting environmentally sustainable infrastructure. Officials stated that the scheme is expected to support inclusive growth, strengthen connectivity and contribute to the state's broader economic development goals. The 'Atal Bus Stand' scheme will be implemented by the Odisha State Road Transport Corporation under the Commerce and Transport Department.

Odisha Revises Transfer Norms, Seeks Data on Long-Serving Police Officers

Bhubaneswar, 10 April (H.S.): The Odisha government has reiterated its transfer policy for police personnel, emphasizing limits on tenure and seeking details of officers serving for prolonged periods in the same postings.

As per existing guidelines, police officers will not be allowed to remain posted at one place for more than three years, while their total tenure in a single district has been capped at six years.

In a notification, the General Administration Department directed authorities to submit a list of such officers. The details have been sought from all Superintendents of Police (SPs) and Deputy Commissioners of Police (DCPs) under the Commissionerate Police, with the deadline set for the end of April.

The transfer policy of government employees in Odisha is governed by the provisions of Book Circular-42, along with instructions issued by the General Administration Department from time to time.

According to the guidelines, transfers are normally to be carried out between April 15 and June 15 each year. The policy also stipulates that no government servant should serve in one district for more than six years and may be transferred after completing three years at a single posting.

MP Aparajita Sarangi Urges CM Mohan Charan Majhi to Reconsider Bhubaneswar Metro Project

Bhubaneswar, 10 April (H.S.): Bhubaneswar MP Aparajita Sarangi has appealed to Odisha Chief Minister Mohan Charan Majhi to revisit the State Cabinet's decision to suspend the proposed Metro Rail project in the capital, calling it a matter of significant public interest.

In a letter to the Chief Minister, Sarangi highlighted the rapid urbanization and rising population in Bhubaneswar, which have led to increasing traffic congestion and strain on existing public transport systems. She emphasized the need for a modern, high-capacity, and cost-efficient mobility solution.

The MP stated that the Metro project would not only benefit Bhubaneswar but also improve connectivity with nearby regions such as Cuttack, Jatni, and Khurda. She noted that the project would provide accessible and reliable transport for diverse groups, including students, professionals, senior citizens, and differently-abled persons. Recalling her earlier efforts, Sarangi mentioned that she had previously written to former Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik in 2022 advocating for the Metro and had reviewed the progress of Bhubaneswar Metro Rail Project Ltd. in 2024. She argued that shelving the project may not be based on a comprehensive assessment of future urban needs, especially as Bhubaneswar and Cuttack continue to expand into a unified urban region. She also stressed that a modern transport system is essential for boosting tourism, attracting investment, and enhancing the city's image. On the financial aspect, Sarangi pointed out that approximately ₹274 crore has already been spent, warning that delaying the project could significantly escalate costs in the future.

NCERT Fiasco

THE National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT) has reconstituted its curriculum committee in the wake of the Supreme Court's strong objections to a sub-chapter on the judiciary in a Class-8 textbook. The panel's revamp seems to be a damage-control exercise by the council, whose credibility has taken a hit. There is no doubt that school textbooks shape young minds, and any mention of constitutional institutions demands careful scrutiny. It's apparent that the NCERT will now be wary of exposing students to sensitive or controversial content. However, the unsavoury episode has raised questions about the balance between judicial oversight and academic autonomy.

Education, especially under frameworks like the National Education Policy 2020, aims to foster critical thinking, inquiry and informed engagement. Shielding students from debates on institutional accountability risks promoting a sanitised understanding of the pillars of democracy.

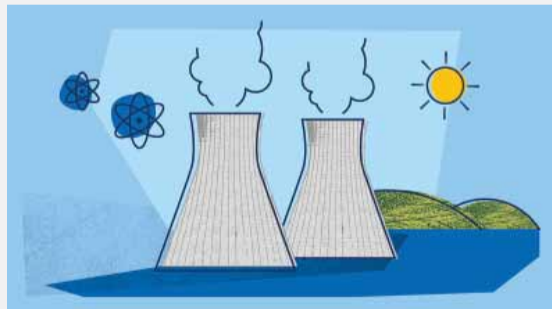

The Court's intervention, including a blanket ban on the textbook and directions affecting some academicians, has drawn criticism from a section of the academic community. In a letter to the President, over 50 scholars have described the move as "judicial overreach," arguing that it stifles debate and undermines pedagogical independence. Their concern is not trivial: if educators fear punitive consequences, curriculum development may become overly cautious, depriving students of nuanced perspectives.

Equally troubling is the precedent of penalising individuals for what is inherently a collaborative academic process. What is needed now is a calibrated approach, not a confrontation between judges and educators. Mechanisms for transparent review, peer evaluation and public consultation could help resolve disputes without resorting to sweeping bans. Ultimately, the goal of education is not to avoid difficult conversations, but to equip students to engage with them responsibly.

Nuclear Power

IN a big boost to India's nuclear ambitions, the indigenous Prototype Fast Breeder Reactor (PFBR) at Kalpakkam in Tamil Nadu has attained criticality, marking the start of a controlled, self-sustaining nuclear fission chain reaction. The reactor has thus crossed the most crucial threshold before power generation. It's a strategic milestone in the country's long-envisioned three-stage nuclear programme. Fast breeder reactors (FBRs) have a key role to play in meeting India's energy needs. The nation's nuclear roadmap conceptualised under pioneers like Homi J Bhabha - rests on a sequential strategy: pressurised heavy water reactors (PHWRs), followed by FBRs and ultimately thorium-

This makes the second stage indispensable. Without FBRs, the transition to the third stage - full utilisation of India's vast thorium reserves - would remain aspirational. The Kalpakkam reactor promises a tangible pathway towards energy self-reliance. So far, only Russia has operationalised commercial FBRs at scale; the technology is complex, capital-intensive and fraught with safety and economic concerns in countries like France and the US.

based systems. While PHWRs form the backbone of the current capacity, they rely on limited uranium resources. FBRs, by contrast, are designed to "breed" more fuel than they consume, converting uranium-238 into plutonium-239 and, eventually, enabling the production of uranium-233 from thorium.

This makes the second stage indispensable. Without FBRs, the transition to the third stage - full utilisation of India's vast thorium reserves - would remain aspirational. The Kalpakkam reactor promises a tangible pathway towards energy self-reliance. So far, only Russia has operationalised commercial FBRs at scale; the technology is complex, capital-intensive and fraught with safety and economic concerns in countries like France and the US.

However, the celebrations must be tempered with realism. The PFBR project has faced significant delays, underlining the engineering and regulatory challenges inherent in such advanced systems. Moreover, public apprehension about nuclear safety - heightened globally after incidents like the 2011 Fukushima disaster - continues to slow down project execution in India. Addressing these concerns through transparency and robust safety frameworks will be as critical as technological success. Ultimately, the PFBR's criticality is a defining step because it reaffirms India's long-term energy vision: leveraging its unique thorium advantage to reduce dependence on imported fossil fuels. The task ahead is clear - scale up, build public trust and ensure sustainable energy security.

Odisha: The Low Hanging Fruit Syndrome

The establishment of NitiAayog in 2015 marked a paradigm shift from Nehru-Mahalanobis model of centralised planning to a model of networked, evidence based governance, where it seeks to influence policy through coordinated monitoring and innovation. Its flagship program -The Aspirational District Program, provides a useful lens to evaluate this transformation. The introduction of 49 Key Result Areas (KRAS) across five sectors, viz Health & Nutrition, Education, Agriculture & Water Resources, Financial Inclusion & Skill Development & Basic Infrastructure enables granular monitoring of incremental change. Out of 112 districts chosen, Odisha account for 10, which largely belong to the beleaguered K-B_K region of Odisha. The reports highlight that the gains are often concentrated in low hanging fruit indicators, while structural challenges like income generation and employment remain less addressed.

Odisha has been able to scale down its Multi-dimensional poverty % from 29.3% in 2015 to 15.68% by 2023. However serious interdistrict imbalances persist, with Puri achieving 3.3%, while districts like Malkangiri (45%), Koraput (33.4%) and Rayagada (34%) seethe with very high numbers. Stunting among children, which is a marker of long term nutrition, & poor sanitation making children prone to frequent infection, is 15% higher in these aspirational districts than average score of all districts, apart from anaemia among adolescent girls which is similarly alarmingly high. The following table, based on NFHS V Survey, will bring out the contrast between these ADs and the average score in terms of stunting & anaemia.

To be fair to the Aspirational District Program, some of the districts have achieved progress in certain area. For instance, in Rayagada & Kandhamal institutional delivery improved by 20% by converting Sub centres in to AyushmanArogyaMandir. Basic infrastructure also shows improvement in terms of rural electricity, individual latrines and drinking water under the

Professor Satya Narayan Misra

HarGharJal mission. Road connectivity under the PM GSY has improved access for ambulances in these hilly areas. In the area of educational outcomes, Nuapada district shows improvement, particularly in terms of girl friendly toilet. However slow or no progress is witnessed in respect of anaemia among women even though IFA (Iron & Folic Acid) distribution has reached 90% saturation level, the actual haemoglobin levels have not risen proportionally. Wasting, a phenomenon where low weight for age is seen shows an uptick in the Malkangiri district.

Besides, in the area of Skill development & financial inclusion, all the ten districts score low delta scores. While the Jan Dhan account exist, meaningful usage & insurance penetration is low because of lack of banking correspondents in remote areas. Creating local jobs for tribal youth remains most difficult; most skilled youth still migrate to AP/Telangana for work. For Skill development, the focus must be on local livelihood. Training on processing forest produce, inculcating modern agri skills like solar pump maintenance, use of drone for pesticide spraying must be given priority. Use of World Skill Centre as a hub to train master trainer who then run sub centres is critical. The Handloom & Handicraft Cluster should facilitate high end designers to in turn train local weavers. By converging Mission Shakti to NUA Odisha skilling, these districts can move from, 'aspirational' to 'inspirational'.

Article 47 of our Constitution enjoins

Article 47 of our Constitution enjoins upon states to 'raise the level of nutrition'. Anaemia among women is showing an increasing trend in every state except Kerala as per successive NFHS surveys. In case of Odisha it has climbed up from 51.8% in 1989-99 to 57% in 2019-21. Mrs Gandhi launched the mega ICDS program in 1975 as a comprehensive program to contain the high levels of undernutrition and anaemia among children and expecting and nursing mothers through a slew of Anganwadi centres by providing supplementary nutrition and iron folic acid supplementation. The NIP (2013) targeted reduction of anaemia by 18% by 2020. It ironically witnessed an increase in anaemia by 3% in 2021. Modi launched the Poshan program in 2018 with an avowed objective of reducing anaemia by 3% per year. Mr Naveen Patnaik, launched the AMLAN program in Odisha in 2022. However, as already brought out, the trend has neither been reversed nor contained in most states, including Odisha.

Adolescence is a period of rapid physical growth and sexual maturation. The onset of monsoon signal increases the daily requirement of iron to replace blood loss. In case of tribals, their diets lack diversity as they rely on monotonous cereal based diet that is low in iron & Vitamin C, which is essential for iron absorption. To complicate matters, they are afflicted by genetic factors like high presence of Sickle Cell disease. In case of Bolangir & Kalahandi, many carry sickle cell traits, where standard iron tablets do not cure these type of anaemia. Districts like Koraput & Malkangiri suffer from 70% anaemia due to high malarial endemicity.

It is easy to build a school toilet or provide electricity to a village than to change the eating habits. There is also an accountability gap as they are transferred every 12-18 months. They are incentivised to focus on visible projects rather than invisible nutritional improvements. There is also a disconnect in the convergence strategy of health department with education and WCD departments. There is a gap between IFA tablet distribution and anaemia reduction. Districts like Malkangiri often have 30-40% vacancy in respect of Auxillary Nurse midwives & ICDS supervisors. One of the suggestions offered is to financially incentivise Asha workers. But they are a partial bridge rather than a complete solution. While the Asha worker get paid for distribution of IFA tablets but are not accountable for ensuring their consumption. Financial incentives are the fuel but government accountability is the steering wheel. We cannot reach the destination of anaemia free districts without a steering wheel, proper monitoring & departmental convergence. Skill development & financial inclusion must be given highest priority as all the aspirational districts of Odisha are showing persistent deficits.

Mahatma Phule, the founder of the Dalit and feminist movement!

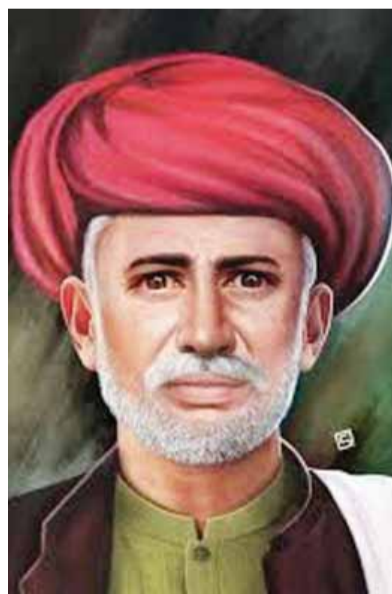

(On his birth anniversary)

Jyotiba Phule (11 April 1827 - 28 November 1890), also known as Mahatma Phule, was a leading Indian social reformer from Satara, who was born into a Mali (Mali) family. He supported education for women and lower castes, establishing one of India's first girls' schools in 1848. Inspired by Thomas Paine's 'The Rights of Man', he fought against caste oppression and gender inequality. His efforts laid the foundation for the Dalit and feminist movements in India. He co-founded the Satya Shodhak Samaj to challenge Brahminical dominance and promote rationalism and social justice.

The social fabric of India has been entangled in casteism for centuries. This system of dividing human dignity and opportunities on the basis of birth has created deep inequalities in society. Jyotirao Phule was a great social reformer who challenged this unjust tradition. He used education as a weapon to awaken the Dalits, women and the marginalized. Phule believed that the roots of casteism would remain intact until everyone in society got the right to education and respect. He opened the first school for women in 1848 and started a movement against caste inequality by founding the Satsodhak Society. When Jyotirao Phule stood against conservative ideas and casteism in society, he had to face intense opposition, social ostracism and personal insults. His reformist efforts were challenged by the Brahmin society, but he continued his struggle through education and organization. He was a victim of casteism since childhood. When he attended a friend's wedding and his caste was revealed, he was insulted and thrown out. This incident changed the course of his life, and he resolved to challenge this unjust system.

conservative section of society. He was abused and his school was also attacked. Social ostracism: Phule and his wife Savitribai were ostracized from society. Their relatives also shunned them. Religious criticism: The Brahminical priests declared him a heretic. His writings like "Gulamgiri" and "Brahmananche Kasab" directly challenged the priestly class, which labeled him an atheist and heretic. Financial hardships: Due to social ostracism, he faced financial hardships. However, he continued his reform work by earning income from his business and farming. Courage during struggle: Phule did not give up despite the hardships. He founded the Satyasodhak Samaj, which became the centre of the movement against casteism and superstition. He wrote

"Shetak-yacha Asuda" ("The Whip of the Peasant") on the problems of farmers and organised Dalits. His wife Savitribai Phule also endured harassment and stone pelting to educate her daughters. Importance in the present context: Casteism has not completely disappeared in India. Caste discrimination continues in education, politics and social life. Phule's struggle teaches us that courage, organisation and education are essential for equality and justice. He demonstrated that change is possible, even if it requires social opposition and humiliation. Jyotirao Phule's life proves that the path of social reform is not easy. He faced humiliation, ostracism and financial hardship, but he never gave up. Today, when casteism persists, Phule's struggle inspires us to challenge this unjust system through education and awareness and build an egalitarian society. Today, India supports equality at the constitutional and legal levels, but casteism persists in practical life. Caste-based political equation has become a part of electoral strategy. Social inequality and a hierarchical mentality persist in rural areas. Inequality of opportunity in education and employment is evident. In urban life too, caste-based bias is often reflected in relationships, marriages and social behaviour. This is why Phule's relevance is even greater today. He demonstrated that education is the most powerful tool to overcome casteism. Today, when access to knowledge is easy in the digital age, Phule's vision inspires us that it is essential to provide education to every section of society. In the fight for social justice and equality, Phule's ideals teach us that not just laws, but a change in mindset is essential. Phule's life also teaches us that reform comes not just from ideas, but from concrete actions. He opened schools, organized communities and dedicated his life to serving the marginalized. In today's times, when casteism leads to violence, discrimination and inequality, Phule's example gives us courage and direction. Casteism is deeply rooted in India, but the life and thoughts of Jyotirao Phule give us confidence that change is possible. As long as everyone in society does not have equal opportunities and respect, the shadow of racism will remain. Phule's relevance lies in his guidance to challenge this unjust system through education, awareness and courage. Thus, in today's India, where racism persists, Jyotirao Phule's message reminds us that the path to equality and justice can only be paved with education, awareness and courage. His life is like a lamp that illuminates the dark social fabric and gives us the confidence that if we adopt and implement his ideas in society, the walls of racism can be broken.

From Jyotirao Phule, today's youth should learn that courage and education are the foundations of social change. Despite insults and opposition, Phule did not give up and opened schools for the underprivileged. The youth should learn from him that no matter how conservative the society, it is important to speak out against injustice. Today, when racism and inequality still exist, the youth should take up the challenge of spreading awareness, fighting for equality, and making education accessible to all, like Phule. This is his most relevant inspiration.

Vice President Radhakrishnan Unveils Latest Constitution Edition in Sindhi on Language Day

New Delhi, 10 /4(H.S.):Vice President C. P. Radhakrishnan released the updated version of India's Constitution in Sindhi today, coinciding with Sindhi Bhasha Diwas, rendering it accessible in both Devanagari and Persian scripts for the first time since Independence. At a ceremony in the Vice President's residence, Radhakrishnan emphasized the language's pivotal role as a beacon of resilience and unity post-Partition. He described the publication as a cornerstone for linguistic inclusivity, empowering citizens to engage with constitutional tenets in their mother tongue, thereby fortifying democratic participation and institutional trust. Union Minister of State for Law and Justice (Independent Charge) Arjun Ram Meghwal echoed this, terming the initiative a milestone that amplifies India's linguistic tapestry, constitutional literacy, and vision for an inclusive republic, bridging foundational values to every citizen. Among attendees were Rajasthan Assembly Speaker Vasudev Devnani and Lok Sabha MP Shankar Lalwani, underscoring the event's cultural and legislative resonance on this observance of Sindhi heritage.

Allahabad High Court Judge Yashwant Varma Resigns Amid Impeachment Probe Over Cash Scandal

New Delhi, 10 /4(H.S.):Justice Yashwant Varma of the Allahabad

High Court has tendered his resignation to President Droupadi Murmu, abruptly stepping down from the bench as impeachment proceedings loomed over allegations of unaccounted cash discovered at his official residence. The move follows a cascade of scrutiny initiated after a fire on March 14, 2025, at his Delhi High Court quarters—where Varma then served—unearthed charred wads of ₹500 notes in a storeroom, sparking misconduct charges. Transferred to Allahabad amid the fallout, Varma faced a Lok Sabha Speaker-constituted inquiry committee under the Judges (Inquiry) Act, 1968. Varma had challenged the panel's legitimacy in the Supreme Court, which on March 22, 2025, dismissed his plea and mandated a three-member probe comprising Punjab & Haryana Chief Justice Sheel Nagu, Himachal Pradesh Chief Justice GS Sandhawalia, and Karnataka High Court Justice

Anu Shivaraman. The apex court upheld the Speaker's authority, paving the way for parliamentary removal motion backed by 146 MPs. In his missive, Varma expressed profound anguish without detailing motives, rendering the inquiry infructuous as statutory mechanisms cease upon a judge's exit. The episode underscores escalating demands for judicial probity amid parallel in-house and impeachment protocols.

President Murmu Nominates Harivansh Narayan Singh to Rajya Sabha Vacancy

New Delhi, 10/4 (HS): President Droupadi Murmu has appointed Harivansh Narayan Singh, the erstwhile Deputy Chairman of the Rajya Sabha, as a nominated member to the Upper House, filling a seat vacated by the retirement of former Chief Justice Ranjan Gogoi, as per a Home Ministry gazette notification issued Friday.

The constitutional provision under Article 80 empowers the President to nominate up to 12 such members for distinguished contributions to fields like journalism, where Singh excelled as editor-in-chief of Hindi daily Prabhat Khabar, transforming it into a circulation powerhouse through investigative prowess on scandals like the Fodder scam. Aligning with Janata Dal (United), Singh entered Parliament from Bihar in 2014, ascending to Deputy Chairman on August 9, 2018, and securing re-election on September 14, 2020. Renowned for presiding with equanimity and procedural finesse, his re-nomination—immediately post his prior term's expiry—affirms his pivotal role in fostering deliberative equilibrium.

Bihar CM Nitish Kumar and Harivansh Narayan Singh Take Oath as Rajya Sabha Members

New Delhi, 10 /4 (H.S.):Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar and outgoing Rajya Sabha Deputy Chairman Harivansh Narayan Singh were sworn in as members of the Upper House on Friday, administered by Vice President and Rajya Sabha Chairman C. P. Radhakrishnan in Parliament House. The ceremony drew a constellation of dignitaries, including Leader of the House and Health Minister Jagat Prakash Nadda, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, Fisheries, Animal Husbandry and Dairy Minister Rajiv Ranjan alias Lalan Singh, Congress MP Jairam Ramesh, and Bihar Deputy CM Samrat Choudhary. At 69, Harivansh's prior term concluded on April 9, prompting President Droupadi Murmu to nominate him Friday to one of Rajya Sabha's 12 presidential slots—reserved for luminaries in art, literature, science, and social service. The vacancy stemmed from former Chief Justice Ranjan Gogoi's retirement. This dual induction reinforces Bihar's parliamentary heft, blending executive stewardship with seasoned legislative acumen.

Supreme Court Directs PIL-Happy Lawyer to Engage Authorities Before Seeking Judicial Relief

New Delhi, 10 /4 (H.S.):The Supreme Court rebuked advocate Sachin Gupta on Friday for inundating the court with 25 public interest litigations spanning diverse issues, advising him to prioritize his legal practice and first approach administrative bodies rather than reflexively invoking judicial intervention. As the matters came up before a bench presided over by Chief Justice Surya Kant, Gupta sought permission to withdraw the petitions. The court permitted this but firmly cautioned: "Focus on your profession. Instead of rushing to court, sensitize government and authorities on key concerns through analytical advocacy." CJI Kant emphasized that as a bar member, Gupta must discern substantive issues and enlighten officials accordingly, assuring that meritorious pleas would receive due consideration if administrative recourse proved futile. The bench underscored PILs' sanctity for genuine public interest, not as a shortcut bypassing executive responsibility.

Delhi Police Dismantles ISI-BKI Espionage and Terror Network in Coordinated Raids

New Delhi, 10 /4(H.S.):In a decisive operation, Delhi Police Special Cell has dismantled an interstate syndicate implicated in terrorism, arms smuggling, and espionage, with direct linkages to Pakistan's Inter-Services Intelligence (ISI) and the proscribed Babbar Khalsa International (BKI), averting a major terror conspiracy. Eleven suspects were apprehended across two synchronized raids in Delhi and Punjab, comprising six from the initial sweep—three each from Punjab's Tarn Taran, Ferozepur, and Delhi's Rohini-Tatesar—and five more from Punjab districts including Kapurthala, Fazeeka, and Moga. Key figures include Manpreet Singh (Tarn Taran), Anmol and Sahil (Ferozepur), Atul Rathi and Rohit (Delhi), Ajay (Delhi), Gurjeet Singh (Kapurthala), Rimpaldeep Singh, Salwinder Singh alias Kalu, Boota Singh (Fazeeka), and Harpreet Singh alias Happy (Moga). Additional DCP Pramod Singh Kushwaha detailed at a press briefing how technical surveillance and intelligence inputs precipitated the busts. Seizures encompassed three foreign-made pistols, a country-made pistol, 24 live rounds, nine solar-powered CCTV cameras, nine SIM cards, 24 mobile phones, two cars, and two motorcycles—vehicles exploited for reconnaissance and arms transport. Investigations unveiled a sophisticated surveillance apparatus: the nine cameras, covertly positioned near strategic military and security installations in Kapurthala, Jalandhar, Pathankot, Patiala, Moga, Ambala, Kathua, Bikaner, and Alwar, relayed live feeds via SIM-enabled apps to Pakistani handlers, compromising defense movements. The network unraveled from Manpreet Singh's March 29 arrest in Tarn Taran, who confessed to ISI directives facilitating seven foreign pistols and 56 cartridges into India, alongside procuring fake IDs for SIMs feeding Pakistan intelligence. Encrypted apps facilitated communications, with recruits—lured by cash and incentives—tasked with spying, smuggling, and data exfiltration on army cantonments and BSF camps. Funding stemmed from arms and narcotics trafficking, routed via UPI and proxies, with plots for grenade assaults on installations thwarted by timely intervention. Gurjeet Singh leveraged familial ties to handlers, Rimpaldeep bridged local operatives, and Happy orchestrated drugs, funds, and CCTV setups. Police affirmed ongoing probes, anticipating further arrests as the syndicate's tendrils extend wider.

Convert Knowledge into Wealth—Nitin Gadkari Calls for Skilled Workforce, Technology, and R&D to Drive Infrastructure Growth

New Delhi, 10 /4 (H.S.):Union Minister for Road Transport and Highways Nitin Gadkari on Friday stressed that transforming knowledge into wealth requires a powerful combination of innovation, science, technology, skilled manpower, and sustained research and development. Speaking at the 17th CIDC Vishwakarma Awards and the "Viksit Bharat 2047" exhibition here, he said India's global standing will rise only if the construction sector refuses to compromise on quality and avoids shortcuts. Gadkari highlighted that to improve infrastructure, decisions must be taken swiftly, project planning must be robust, and quality of work must be given absolute priority. "If we adopt newer technologies and refine our working methods, project costs can be significantly reduced," he said, adding that delays in land acquisition and procedural clearances have historically inflated costs and timelines, hurting both governments and contractors. He urged all stakeholders to internalise that projects must be judged not only by their cost but also by their quality and performance. To ensure timely completion, Gadkari advocated settling land acquisition and key approvals at the outset, so that administrative bottlenecks do not erode capital and delay delivery. Stressing the need for sustainable practices, Gadkari underlined the importance of adopting biofuels and other alternative energy sources. "This will reduce our dependence on petrol and diesel, lower expenses, and also help meet our climate commitments," he said.

PM Modi Extends Congratulations to Nitish Kumar and Harivansh on Rajya Sabha Oath-Taking

New Delhi, 10 /4 (H.S.): Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday commended Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar and outgoing Rajya Sabha Deputy Chairman Harivansh Narayan Singh upon their swearing-in as members of the Upper House, lauding their exemplary contributions to governance and public discourse.

In separate messages on X, PM Modi hailed Kumar as one of India's most seasoned leaders, whose unwavering dedication to exemplary administration has garnered widespread acclaim. He credited Kumar with indelible strides in Bihar's advancement, expressing delight at his parliamentary return after prior stints as MP and Union Minister. "His extensive political acumen will further elevate the House's prestige," Modi affirmed, wishing him success in the tenure ahead. Turning to Harivansh, a distinguished journalist and intellectual, PM Modi praised his profound insights that have enriched Rajya Sabha proceedings. Nominated by President Droupadi Murmu to fill a vacancy created by former Chief Justice Ranjan Gogoi's retirement—whose term ended April 9—Harivansh's reappointment to one of the 12 presidential slots recognizes eminence in fields like journalism and public service. The duo took oaths Friday in Parliament House, administered by Vice President and Rajya Sabha Chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar (noted as CP Radhakrishnan in some contexts), marking pivotal moments amid Bihar's political transitions.

Prime Minister Modi Advocates Steadfast Resolve and Prudent Discernment Amid Adversity

New Delhi, 10 /4 (H.S.):Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday invoked an ancient Sanskrit aphorism to underscore the paramount virtue of composure and judicious reasoning in navigating life's gravest trials, urging the nation's youth to harness such fortitude for collective advancement. In a poignant post on the social media platform X, PM Modi extolled the indomitable spirit of India's younger generation, affirming that their resolute ambitions propel the country toward accelerated progress. He shared the subhashita:

Government Warns of Stripping X's Safe Harbour Protections Over Unaddressed Inflammatory Posts

New Delhi, 10 /4 (H.S.):The Central government and Delhi Police informed the Delhi High Court on Friday that social media platform X risks forfeiting its legal immunity in India should it persist in ignoring takedown requests for posts by journalist Rana Ayyub deemed offensive to Hindu deities and Vinayak Damodar Savarkar. Justice Prabh Deep Kaurav scheduled the next hearing for May 19. Additional Solicitor General Chetan Sharma argued that despite Delhi Police notices in September and December 2025, and a Saket Court directive in January 2025 mandating an FIR against Ayyub, X failed to remove the content. "How can safe harbour shield non-compliance with court orders and police summons?" Sharma queried. X's counsel countered that writ petitions target governmental entities, not private platforms, urging action against Ayyub directly under IT Act Section 69A. Ayyub's advocate Vrinda Grover deemed the petition non-maintainable, prompting the court to mandate her response. This follows the High Court's April 8 rebuke of Ayyub's 2013-2017 tweets as "derogatory, incendiary, and communal," directing coordinated remediation by X, police, and authorities. Petitioner Amita Sachdeva, a Sanatan Dharma adherent, cited seven tweets insulting Ram, Sita, Savarkar, and Hindu nationalism as profoundly wounding, after Saket Court's FIR order—despite X claiming the posts' removal.

Nepal President Set to Address Joint Parliamentary Session

Kathmandu, 10 /4 (H.S.): President Ram Chandra Paudel will deliver a formal address to a joint sitting of Nepal's federal parliament on Friday afternoon at 3:00 p.m., marking a pivotal constitutional moment as the nation transitions toward its forthcoming budget session. The President's Office has formally notified the Parliament Secretariat via an official letter, signed by Secretary Mahadev Panth, requesting all requisite logistical preparations for the event. This address, undertaken at the explicit recommendation of the Council of Ministers, will convene lawmakers from both the House of Representatives and the National Assembly, underscoring its significance in Nepal's parliamentary calendar. Under Article 95 of the Nepalese Constitution, the president holds the authority to address either a single chamber or a unified assembly of both houses, with the prerogative to summon members' attendance as needed. This provision formalizes the head of state's role in outlining key governmental priorities and policy directions, often setting the tone for legislative agendas ahead. The announcement coincides with procedural housekeeping in parliament: the current sessions of both houses are slated for prorogation later tonight, contingent upon the selection of a new Deputy Speaker. With the winter session drawing to a close, the government has already pivoted toward orchestrating the upcoming budget deliberations, signaling a renewed focus on fiscal and developmental imperatives. This address assumes added resonance following recent general elections, positioning President Paudel to articulate a vision for national progress amid evolving political dynamics.

Netanyahu Slams Pakistan Minister's 'Cancerous State' Remark as Call for Israel's Annihilation

Jerusalem, 10/4(H.S.): Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu issued a scathing rebuke against Pakistan's Defence Minister Khawaja Asif, branding his inflammatory social media post as an "outrageous" incitement to destroy Israel, amid escalating tensions over Israel's military strikes in Lebanon. In a post on X dated Thursday, Asif lambasted Israel as an "evil" entity and a "curse for humanity," accusing it of perpetrating genocide in Lebanon while peace talks unfolded in Islamabad. He escalated his rhetoric by declaring, "I hope and pray that the people who created this cancerous state on Palestinian land... burn in hell." The remarks came against the backdrop of Israel's heaviest bombardment of Lebanon since Iran-backed Hezbollah entered the fray, which has killed hundreds and strained a fragile US-Iran ceasefire less than 48 hours old. Netanyahu's office swiftly countered on X, stating that such a "call for Israel's annihilation" from any government—let alone one positioning itself as a neutral mediator—is intolerable. "This is not a statement that can be tolerated from any government, especially not from one that claims to be a neutral arbiter for peace," the statement read. Israel's Foreign Minister Gideon Sa'ar amplified the response, denouncing Asif's words as "blatant antisemitic blood libels" that implicitly demand Israel's eradication. Sa'ar affirmed that Israel would robustly defend itself against any threats vowing its destruction. This rare public diplomatic clash underscores Israel's deepening skepticism toward Pakistan's mediating role in Middle East peace efforts. Israel's envoy to India, Reuven Azar, explicitly voiced distrust in Pakistan during an interview Thursday, asserting that both Jerusalem and Washington view Islamabad solely as a logistical conduit, not a trustworthy broker. The exchange unfolds amid a volatile regional landscape. Lebanon was drawn into the conflict on March 2, when Hezbollah launched rockets at Israeli cities in retaliation for the assassination of Iran's supreme leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei on the war's outset. Israel's Wednesday strikes shattered an uneasy calm, prompting Netanyahu to clarify that the US-Iran truce—brokered by President Donald Trump—excludes Lebanon. Trump had suspended attacks on Iran for two weeks following urgent appeals from Pakistan's Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif and Army Chief Asim Munir, paving the way for talks originally slated for Islamabad.

"No Ceasefire in Lebanon": Netanyahu Doubles Down on Strikes While Ordering Direct Peace Talks

BEIRUT/Tel Aviv, 10 /4 (H.S.): Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has declared that there is "no ceasefire" in Lebanon, hours after authorising direct negotiations with the Lebanese government to disarm Hezbollah and pursue a formal peace pact. In a televised address, Netanyahu vowed that Israel would continue attacking Hezbollah with "full force" until Israeli border communities could be declared secure. Netanyahu told the nation that, despite opening a diplomatic channel, Israel would not halt its military campaign. "There is no ceasefire in Lebanon. We are continuing to strike Hezbollah with full force, and we will not stop until we restore your security," he said. The Prime Minister's Office later clarified that he had instructed the cabinet to begin direct talks with Lebanon as soon as possible, following what it described as repeated overtures from Beirut. The stated objectives of the nascent negotiations are twofold: the full disarmament of Iran-backed Hezbollah and the establishment of what Israeli officials have called a "historic peace agreement" between Israel and Lebanon. Netanyahu's office also noted that Israel "appreciates the call" from Lebanon's Prime Minister earlier Thursday to demilitarise Beirut's downtown area—a move seen in diplomatic circles as a tentative step toward de-escalating the capital's exposure to cross-border attacks. Lebanon's President Joseph Aoun, speaking in a separate statement, reiterated that a comprehensive ceasefire remains the only viable path out of the current crisis. "The only solution to the current situation in Lebanon is to achieve a ceasefire between Israel and Lebanon," he told reporters, as relayed by regional outlets such as Al Jazeera. Aoun added that the ceasefire proposal and the launch of direct talks with

Putin Declares Easter Ceasefire in Ukraine Conflict Amid Global Tensions

Moscow, 10/4 (H.S.): Russian President Vladimir Putin has unilaterally announced a temporary ceasefire with Ukraine spanning the Orthodox Easter holidays, a gesture framed as a humanitarian pause in the protracted four-year war that has ravaged Europe. The Kremlin statement, issued Thursday, specifies that hostilities will halt from 4:00 p.m. Moscow time (1:00 p.m. GMT) on April 11 until the close of April 12, 2026, explicitly tied to the "approaching Orthodox feast of Easter." Putin directed the Russian General Staff to suspend combat operations across all fronts during this window, while underscoring readiness to repel "any possible provocations by the enemy." The declaration anticipates reciprocal adherence from Kyiv, positioning Moscow's initiative as a model of restraint. This development follows Ukrainian

President Volodymyr Zelensky's earlier proposal for a holiday truce, conveyed through U.S. channels earlier in the week. Zelensky's outreach came as stalled negotiations hampered by irreconcilable demands over territory and sovereignty were further eclipsed by escalating crises in the Middle East, including U.S.-

Iran frictions over the Strait of Hormuz. Putin's move arrives against a backdrop of intensified Russian diplomatic maneuvering. Recent rhetoric from the Kremlin has lambasted Western interventions, with Putin issuing stark warnings on Middle East volatility, condemning escalatory actions as threats to global stability.

Misri-Rubio White House Summit Advances India-US Trade, Quad, and Defence Agenda

Washington, 10 /4(H.S.): India's Foreign Secretary Vikram Misri engaged in a highly productive dialogue with US Secretary of State Marco Rubio at the White House on Thursday, underscoring a renewed commitment to fortifying bilateral relations amid evolving global challenges. The comprehensive discussions spanned critical domains including trade expansion, strategic cooperation on critical minerals, defence partnerships, and the Quadrilateral Security Dialogue (Quad), reflecting both nations' intent to navigate supply chain vulnerabilities and geopolitical tensions in the Indo-Pacific. US Ambassador to India Sergio Gor, who attended the meeting, highlighted its significance on social media, noting Rubio's anticipation for an official visit to India next month—a development poised to accelerate momentum in these areas. This engagement builds on prior high-level interactions, such as Misri's recent consultations with US

Under Secretary of State for Political Affairs Allison Hooker, where the duo assessed progress since December's Foreign Office talks and exchanged perspectives on West Asian developments alongside shared regional priorities. The agenda's emphasis on critical minerals aligns with ongoing efforts to diversify supply chains for exploration, mining, processing, and recycling, leveraging India's manufacturing ambitions and US technological prowess to mitigate dependencies on non-market actors. Defence collaboration emerged as another pillar, advancing frameworks like the US-India Major Defence Partnership signed in late 2025, which promotes operational coordination, intelligence sharing, and joint exercises such as Tiger Triumph to counter Indo-Pacific threats. Meanwhile, Quad deliberations signal heightened multilateral synergy with Japan and Australia, focusing on regional security, technology transfers, and economic resilience—imperatives amplified by recent joint statements pledging $500 billion in US energy and tech exports to India over five years. Trade dynamics also featured prominently, with both sides addressing non-tariff barriers and investment reviews to enhance two-way commerce, including semiconductors, GPUs, and clean energy products essential for data centers and renewables. As Rubio's impending trip approaches, analysts anticipate it will yield concrete mechanisms to operationalize these commitments, potentially culminating in expanded Quad summits and defence-industrial ventures.

"Markets appear cautiously optimistic ahead of the U.S.-Iran talks, as reflected in broad-based gains globally and a meaningful reduction in volatility, with India's VIX falling over 6.5 per cent. The ceasefire, however, remains under pressure, with conflicting peace frameworks, Washington accusing Tehran of breaching commitments on the Strait of Hormuz, and Israel's strikes on Lebanon adding a further layer of complexity to an already delicate situation. With formal talks yet to begin on Saturday, next week's market direction will remain firmly dependent on how negotiations unfold between the U.S., Israel, and Iran in the near term," said Ponmudi R, Chief Executive Officer of Enrich Money, a SEBI-registered online trading and wealth tech firm.

Qatar Reaffirms Reliable Energy Supply to India Amid West Asia Turmoil

New Delhi, 10/4 (H.S.): Amid escalating tensions in West Asia, Qatar has reiterated its steadfast commitment to remain a dependable energy supplier to India. Qatar's Minister of State for Energy Affairs, Saad Sherida Al-Kaabi, extended this assurance during talks in Doha with Union Minister of Petroleum and Natural Gas, Hardeep Singh Puri. The ministers urged sustained stability in global markets despite the prevailing unrest. Puri was on a two-day visit to Qatar from April 9-10. During the trip, he conveyed Prime Minister Narendra Modi's message of solidarity to Qatari leadership in the wake of the regional conflict's outbreak. He personally delivered PM Modi's greetings and support to Qatar's Amir, Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al Thani, and the Prime Minister. The discussions spanned all facets of the strategic ties between the two nations, including high-level engagements, trade, investment, energy, culture, and people-to-people connections. Both leaders expressed optimism for a swift return to peace and stability in the region, alongside further strengthening of bilateral relations. They welcomed the two-week ceasefire announced on April 8 and emphasized the urgent need to eliminate disruptions in global energy supply chains. The duo also underscored the critical importance of uninterrupted navigation to preserve supply lines. Puri's visit comes at a pivotal moment as India seeks to safeguard its energy security amid global volatilities. Qatar remains India's largest source of LNG and LPG, accounting for 45% and 20% of supplies, respectively.

India's Forex Reserves Jump $9.06 Billion To $697.12 Billion

Mumbai, 10/4 (H.S.): India's foreign exchange reserves rebounded sharply in the first week of April, reversing the previous week's decline, as the country's forex reserves rose by $9.063 billion, according to data released by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Friday. The country's forex jumped to $697.121 billion for the week ended April 3. This comes after a significant drop of $10.288 billion in the preceding week ended March 27, when reserves had slipped to $688.058 billion. The latest increase was driven by gains across key components of the reserve basket. Gold reserves recorded a sharp rise of $7.221 billion, taking their total value to $120.742 billion. Foreign currency assets (FCA), the largest component of the reserves, also increased by $1.784 billion to $552.856 billion, according to the central bank's data. FCA includes assets denominated in major global currencies such as the US dollar, euro, yen and pound, with values expressed in dollar terms. Additionally, special drawing rights (SDRs) saw a marginal increase of $58 million to $18.707 billion during the week.

India's reserve position with the International Monetary Fund remained unchanged at $4.816 billion. Despite the recent volatility, India's forex reserves remain below their all-time high of $728.494 billion, which was recorded in the week ended February 27, before the onset of the West Asia crisis that triggered a phase of depletion. Foreign exchange reserves play a crucial role in maintaining economic stability, helping the central bank manage currency fluctuations and ensuring smooth external trade. A robust reserve position allows the RBI to intervene in the currency market to support the rupee during periods of volatility, while also reflecting sustained inflows of foreign currency into the economy. Meanwhile, in the week ended February 27, India's foreign exchange reserves surged by $4.885 billion to an all-time high of $728.494 billion, according to RBI earlier data.

New Delhi, 10/4 (H.S.): Indian equity markets closed on a strong note on Friday, shrugging off a sharp correction seen the previous session and delivering a mid-morning to upper-day rally across indices. The Sensex surged as much as 990 points intra-day, while the Nifty added up to 298 points in the session, with bulls regaining control after a bout of profit-taking-led volatility early in the day. Market participants attributed the uptrend to expectations of peace talks in West Asia, positive global cues, and sustained buying in financial and select sectoral stocks. The Sensex concluded the day 918.60 points, or 1.20%, higher at 77,550.25, while the Nifty finished 275.50 points, or 1.16%, stronger at 24,050.60. intraday peak near 24,074.05—up 298.95 points before settling at 24,050.60 after a mild end-session correction. Buying interest was concentrated in automobiles, capital goods, consumer durables, banking, realty, FMCG, healthcare, metals, oil & gas, and public sector enterprises, all of which ended the day in the green. Mid-cap and small-cap indices also outperformed, with the Nifty Midcap index closing 1.52% higher and the Smallcap index up 1.65%, reflecting risk-on sentiment across the breadth. However, the technology space faced selling pressure. The Nifty IT index declined 1.91%, while the BSE tech index slipped 1.10%, underscoring the contrast between defensive-growth and cyclical themes on the Street. The strong rally translated into significant wealth accumulation. The combined market capitalisation of BSE-listed companies rose to around ₹451.23 lakh crore (provisional) from ₹444.72 lakh crore the previous day, implying an increase of roughly ₹6.51 lakh crore in investor wealth in a single session. saw no net change. At the NSE, 2,479 of 2,970 traded scrips advanced, while 491 declined, reinforcing the broad-based nature of the uptrend. Among large-caps, Asian Paints (+4.01%), Ashok Leyland (+3.87%), ICICI Bank (+3.17%), Shriram Finance (+3.14%), and Bajaj Auto (+3.12%) featured in the top-five gainers, helped by sector-specific demand and earnings-linked confidence. On the flip side, Coal India (-4.40%), Sun Pharmaceutical (-3.62%), Infosys (-2.94%), TCS (-2.50%), and Tech Mahindra (-1.46%) emerged as the major laggards, reflecting the profit-booking trend in select blue-chips and the IT-specific selloff. Market analysts said the day's action showed that domestic sentiment remained resilient despite overnight volatility, with investors gravitating toward quality names and economically sensitive sectors. The gains also underscored how quickly equity markets can repair losses when macros and global cues tilt in favour of risk-on positioning, offering a timely reminder of both the opportunities and risks in India's dynamic stock market.

Nyomica Hooda": Randeep Hooda, Lin Laishram announce the name of their daughter

In a heartfelt note, actor-filmmaker Randeep Hooda and his wife, Lin Laishram, have revealed the name of their newborn daughter as she completed one month today. The couple shared that they have named their daughter 'Nyomica', a name imbued with deep meaning. According to Randeep, the name translates to "Divine Grace, Freedom and limitless, like the sky." The choice also carries a special familial touch, as it was lovingly suggested by Randeep's sister, Anjali Hooda. Announcing the name, the couple described the moment as profoundly emotional.

"Naming our daughter has been an incredibly special and emotional moment for us. 'Nyomica' felt just right the moment we heard it. This past month has been life-changing in the most wonderful way, and we're soaking in every moment of this new journey as parents," they shared in a press note. The announcement was accompanied by an intimate photograph of Lin Laishram holding their daughter near a window, capturing a quiet and tender moment of early motherhood. The second picture in the post also provided a closer glimpse of their daughter. Randeep also expressed gratitude towards his wife, thanking her for bringing their daughter into the world, while reflecting on how fatherhood has deepened his appreciation for his own parents. The couple had earlier welcomed their daughter in March, making this their first child together. White's credentials span continents: prior to India, he guided Belgium's U-21 women to Junior World Cup bronze in December 2025, elevated their senior team's world ranking from 12th to 3rd (2021-2024), and reached Paris Olympics semifinals in 2024. KKR is My Home": Andre Russell Embraces Power Coach Role with Emotional Bond

Kolkata, 10/4 (H.S.): In a candid Instagram exchange on KKR's official handle, assistant coach Shane Watson and newly minted power coach Andre Russell reminisced about their playing days while unpacking the Jamaican's transition to mentoring, with Russell declaring the franchise his enduring cricketing sanctuary. Watson lauded Russell's sustained excellence as a pace-bowling allrounder, a rare feat in T20's unforgiving arena. Russell elaborated his mandate: honing players' boundary-hitting prowess, particularly sixes, without overhauling techniques—focusing instead on amplifying raw power. Admitting the shift's emotional toll, Russell confessed match-day urges to strap on pads, yet he's adapting to sidelines counsel. His dugout debut felt alien, he revealed, grappling initially with boundaries between player instincts and coaching imperatives.

The conversation peaked with Russell's heartfelt tribute to KKR as "home," ranking this season's honors among career's most poignant. Watson reciprocated with respect for their past duels, welcoming the powerhouse to the staff.
